Introduction:

Guoren Urban-Rural Mutual Aid Organisation is an initiative of the Countryside Construction Center of Renmin University of China. Its forerunner was the pollution free rice purchasing and land contracting team in Nanmazhuang formed after the “professor selling rice” event. Now its shareholders are mainly social activists and scholars. They promote joint purchasing of healthy farm produce and increase farmers’ income by establishing a direct link between urban consumers and rural farmers.

Urban consumers wishing to support the cooperative and small farm organic production, can become a member by paying a minimum RMB 100 registration fee. Members can enjoy capital return at the end of the year as per the transaction volume. Members can also buy shares in the cooperative and enjoy profit-sharing at the year’s end.
