

Terrorism at Los Angeles Area Chemical Plants Could Put Millions at Risk

According to industry's worst-case disaster scenarios, 13 Los Angeles area chemical plants each put a million or more residents at risk. Four plants, including Clorox Products Manufacturing, each put more than four million workers and residents at risk from chlorine gas. Legislation is pending in Congress to prevent terrorist attacks at U.S. chemical facilities by converting them to safer substances.

Source: U.S. EPA

GREENPEACE

www.greenpeaceusa.org