

EMPOWER THE FUTURE

with Environmental Education and Action Through a Gift in Your Will

The story of Greenpeace is a story of hope, a powerful reminder of the difference ordinary people can make when they come together to protect our planet and the incredible diversity of life it sustains.

After you've taken care of your loved ones, a gift in your Will to the Greenpeace Canada Education Fund (GCEF) is a meaningful way to keep your values alive and create lasting change for the planet. Your legacy gift will help educate and inspire others through vital research, public education, and awareness campaigns, helping protect our environment for generations to come.

It costs nothing now, but it will make a world of difference in the future. As a registered charity, your gift to GCEF may also provide tax benefits for your estate.

Ways You Can Leave a Gift

1 A Gift of Cash (Bequest)

Designate a specific dollar amount or a percentage of your estate's residue. This is the most common way to make a legacy gift.

2 A Gift of Securities

Donating publicly traded stocks or securities may reduce taxes on capital gains and provide a charitable tax receipt for your estate. This can offer a greater net benefit to your beneficiaries.

3 Registered Funds (RRSPs, RRIFs, TFSA's)

Name the Greenpeace Canada Education Fund as the beneficiary of your registered funds. This is one of the simplest and most flexible ways to give. Note: In Quebec, this must be done through your Will.

4 A Gift of Life Insurance

Name Greenpeace Canada Education Fund as the beneficiary of an existing life insurance policy or transfer ownership of a new one. If you transfer ownership, the premiums you pay may qualify for a charitable tax receipt during your lifetime.
