

List of the Citizen groups and 'Scream' location across Bengaluru

Bengaluru Town Hall (collective)

Location: Lal Bagh

About: "Bengaluru Town Hall"—an open civic forum committed to working For a Better Bengaluru through informed critique, scientific analysis, and planned civic action.

Contact: Sandeed Anirudhan - 7204034050

Coalition for water and security

Location: Bennighalli lake

About: Coalition of movements working towards restoration and conservation of ecosystems to ensure water security.

Contact: - Sandeep Anirudhan- 7204034050

Namma whitefield (RWA Federation)

Location: Kadugodi tree park, whitefield

About: A federation of Residents / RWAs in core Whitefield Area, actively engaging in neighbourhood and civic issues, and with the Ward Committee in addressing them, even leading some high power campaigns to save the environment such as the Pattandur Agrahara Lake 54, and several others.

Quote: A civic activist, Sandeep Anirudhan said that Destruction of the Kadugodi Reserve Forest is a "daylight robbery," illegally encroached upon by the government and private interests. Losing this critical "lung space" ruins the city's ecology, and endangers the liveability of the city.

Contact person: Sandeep Anirudhan – 7204034050

Location: Sarjapura road

About: A Citizen-Led Climate Action Initiative Bengaluru | Est. April 2025 .

About the Initiative Sustainable Sundays is a community-powered movement to make sustainability simple, fun, and inclusive — right here in Bengaluru. We bring together citizens from all walks of life to explore practical, creative ways of living eco-consciously, without judgment or perfectionism.

Quote :Clean streets are a basic necessity. It's unfortunate that we don't have that in India and we see garbage dumped everywhere. The problem lies deep from poor garbage management, to bad civic sense to overconsumption and overproduction. Whatever we are littering is coming back to us in terms of microplastics and other harmful chemicals in our food, water and even air.

Contact : Anjali - 9560263966

Malleswaram social

Locations: Mysore lamps works, Malleswaram

About: It is a community group in Malleswaram seeking to knit the community together, and work with residents to improve our neighborhood.

Quote: A member of Malleswaram social said,"Bengaluru needs to prioritize public spaces that meet the city's stated climate action and biodiversity conservation goals. Preserving existing green space is the first step in meeting these goals. The defunct Mysore Lamps factory with its thick forest like canopy can become a wonderful mixed use space that can be used by a cross-section of society. Converting this into a convention centre will only serve a narrow socio-economic class while destroying green cover and replacing it with glass and concrete. This will only exacerbate existing problems of traffic, pollution, urban heat islands without answering people's urgent need for more public green space."

Contact number : Kaustubh Rau: 7022295422

Green Mic (group) :

Location : JC road

About: Greenmic is an initiative to simplify the climate crisis to make it understandable and relatable, showcase pathways/opportunities to enable climate action and speak up for Social and Environmental Justice through content, conversations, collaborations, workshops, interactive activities, art and events in public spaces.

Quote: Gaytri from Greenmic said.”Glass jars and bottles are sent for recycling when they can actually be reused and repurposed. Single use glass is worse than single use plastic”

Contact person: Gaytri - 8971404264

Women Garment Factory Workers

Contact person : Yamuna - 9945031422

END.

Media Contact: Nibedita Saha, Media Officer, Greenpeace India

Ph- +91 7045066118 | nibedita.saha@greenpeace.org

Amruta S.N., Climate and Energy Campaigner, Greenpeace India

Ph: 8304010458 | asnair@greenpeace.org